I.—APPROXIMATE ACREAGES UNDER THE VARIOUS CROPS.

The figures given in this table are estimates based on the results of the Censuses of Production, 1921 and 1924. The acreages are subject to considerable error, and cannot in any way be guaranteed accurate owing to the difficulty in obtaining exact information of the variable areas under village plantation. The coconut area seems to be under estimated and is generally thought to be over 1,000,000 acres. Figures of gross produce are not given, as in the past, as they are not sufficiently accurate. The export figures of various products are given in pages P 67–116 of this volume.

IV.—MANUFACTURES, MINES, AND FISHERIES FOR 1926.

N.B.—There are few regular manufactories, mills, &c., in Ceylon, those entered in this return being, with the exception of the steam engines and a few of the oil mills, of a very simple kind. There is also no regular yard for shipbuilding in the Island ; small sloops and schooners are, however, frequently built and launched locally.

I.—LABOUR.

Classification.—Manual labour in Ceylon may be best considered under the following heads :—

(1) Unskilled—
  (a) Immigrant.
  (b) Indigenous.

(2) Skilled.

Skilled and Unskilled Labour.—The dividing line between skilled and unskilled labour is not always clear ; but the former term generally connotes work done with tools by skilled persons such as artisans technically trained to use them. Unskilled work is also generally done by persons using tools, but of a simpler kind. Most agricultural manual work may be reckoned as unskilled, though such tasks as tea plucking or rubber tapping require considerable skill and experience.

General Legislation.—Ordinance No. 11 of 1865 applies to all contracts for hire and service, and section 3 setting out the standard contract in Ceylon reads :—

" Every verbal contract for the hire of any servant, except for work usually performed by the day, or by the job, or by the journey, shall (unless otherwise expressly stipulated, and not withstanding that the wages under such contract shall be payable at a daily rate) be deemed and taken in law to be a contract for hire and service for the period of one month, and to be renewable from month to month, and shall be deemed and taken in law to be so renewed, unless one month's previous notice or warning be given by either party to the other of his intention to determine the same at the expiry of a month from the day of giving such notice."

Contracts for hire and service must be in writing and signed before a Magistrate or Justice of the Peace, if the period for which they are made exceeds one month.

Section 27 dealing with sickness of employees reads :—

" Any servant who shall be incapacitated by sickness from labour whilst in the service of any employer shall be entitled to lodging, food, as well as medical care, at the expense of such employer during such incapacity ; provided that the employer shall not be bound to pay to the servant during such period his wages in addition ; provided further, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the employer from determining the contract under the 10th section of this Ordinance in case the servant shall become permanently disabled from completing his contract."

Washington Conventions.—Ordinance No. 6 of 1923 legalizes in Ceylon the Washington Conventions regarding the employment of women, young persons, and children in industrial undertakings.

Unskilled Labour.—Unskilled labour in Ceylon may, for the sake of convenience, be considered under the heads estate and non-estate, each of which may be divided into immigrant and indigenous.

Estate Labour.

The immigration of labour from India to the estates in Ceylon is a movement of long standing, dating back to 1830 or earlier. In spite of the considerable numbers of Sinhalese now working on the estates the immigrant Indian labourers form about 86 per cent. of the total estate population, which is now estimated to be about 733,000.

Hours of Work.—The hours of work on estates are generally from 6.30 A.M. to 4 P.M., with an interval of about one hour for a midday meal. A proposal to reckon as overtime hours of work exceeding nine hours per day is under consideration in connection with the legal minimum wage scheme. Night work on estates only takes place in the factories during very busy seasons.

Wages.—The general average minimum wages, cash bonuses included , for the most unskilled time workers on the estates vary from 50 to 55 cents a day for men, 30 to 35 cents for women, and 20 to 35 cents for children. Some men earn up to 65 cents and women up to 50 cents a day at time work. More than half the work on estates is done on a piece work basis, and thereby many labourers are enabled to earn twice or three times the amounts earned at time work. A male rubber tapper on a good estate can easily earn a rupee for half a day's work, while a girl plucking tea leaf can earn a rupee for a day's work.

In addition to nominal or cash wages, labourers on estates receive bonuses as well as indirect wages, such as free housing, free medical aid, free firewood, free materinity benefit, and rice at about 14 per cent. below the market rate. On some estates they also have the free use of garden plots and get a free issue of cloths, and sometimes presents at festivals.

Legal Minimum Wage.—It is proposed to introduce legally binding minimum rates of wages to protect the least skilled able-bodied workers from payment of wages below the average rates for such labourers and in a minority of cases below a fair wage. The rates proposed for time workers are :—

	Men. Cents.	Women. Cents.	Children. Cents.
Low-country	50	40	30
Mid-country	52	41	31
Up-country	54	43	32

together with issue of good unblended rice at Rs. 6·40 a bushel and a free issue of rice to widows with dependents and for non-working children.

Housing.—Under the new housing scheme on estates about 80,000 rooms were either constructed or reconstructed within the four years 1922–1925 at a cost of over Rs. 25,000,000. The ultimate total cost of this scheme will, it is estimated be in the neighbourhood of Rs. 46,000,000.

Department of Indian Immigrant Labour.—The Department of Indian Immigrant Labour controls the recruitment of Indian labourers, and administers " The Immigration Fund," from which are met various expenses in respect of the recruitment, repatriation of labourers, and other matters. The Administration Report of the Controller may be referred to for fuller details with regard to immigrant labour.

Indigenous Labour on Estates.

The indigenous estate labour, in general, differs chiefly from the immigrant labour in that it is not resident. The Sinhalese who form most of the indigenous labourers on the eastes are usually drawn from the surrounding villages, and are consequently less amenable to estate discipline. Having other interests and possibly other means of livelihood, they are for the most part less regular in attendance than the Indian Tamils. But excellent results can be obtained with indigenous labourers, particularly if they are housed on the estates. The numbers of indigenous labourers employed on estates are increasing, but they do not at present amount to more than 14 per cent. of the total labour force.

Non-Estate Labour.

Non-estate labour is of many different kinds; considerable numbers of immigrant labourers, mainly unskilled, are employed by Government Departments, such as the Public Works, Railway, Harbour Works, and others, by local bodies, by private firms, &c.

The general conditions in Government service are governed by provisions decided upon on the advice of the Labour Advisory Committee.

Two schedules of the classification of daily and hourly paid labour drawn by the Labour Advisory Committee and sanctioned by Government in 1926 are given below :—

Many indigenous labourers are similarly employed. In addition they supply a large proportion of the skilled labour, such as carpenters, blacksmiths, masons, &c. Their rates of pay differ according to age and skill from 60 cents to Rs. 8·10 a day. They are also employed in plumbago mines, cleaning sheds, mills of various kinds, the manufacture of copra, coir, &c. But the greatest numbers according to the Census of 1921 were cultivators of paddy amounting to about 417,000 persons. Most of them cultivate their own lands or help in the cultivation of others lands on varying terms. Others earn from 15 cents to Rs. 2 a day according to age and sex. Many of these occupations are unorganized, and no general statement can be made about their hours and conditions of work.

* Wages for all districts are not given as in the past as the figures are not of great value. The wide ranges are due to the difference of locality and standard of work. The collection of more definite information is under consideration.

† Wages are often paid in kind at the rate of 1 marakkal of paddy in place of 50 or 60 cents. 1 marakkal of paddy is equivalent to 7 heaped measures or 8 cut measures (seers).

METEOROLOGY.

General Remarks.—There is a marked variation in climate between the different parts of Ceylon. In the low-country, with a mean temperature of the order of 80° F., a noticeable feature is the small range of both temperature and pressure. There is, however, wide divergence between the moist conditions in the south-west of the Island, where the average annual rainfall varies from 100 to over 200 inches, and the dry zone areas of the north, north-west, and south-east.

Altitudes up to 8,000 feet occur inland, and there the temperature is cooler, and shows a bigger range. There is a corresponding change in vegetation, and the conditions are altogether more akin to those in the temperate zone.

Rainfall.—A rough summary of rainfall in 1926 can be given by saying that the south-west monsoon was above average, while the inter-monsoon periods and north-east monsoon were below average.

As a result the totals for the year will be found to be above average at most stations on the west side and below average on the east side and centre. The chief exceptions to this generalization were that in the extreme south the area of deficient rainfall extended westward to include the Galle district, while several stations on or near the east coast (e.g., Mullaittivu, Trincomalee, Rugam) did just reach their average, even though others a trifle more inland were in deficit.

As regards actual figures, Kenilworth 268·5 inches, Ingoya 258·5, and Carney 253·3 head the list, and beat their own averages, thanks to heavy south-west monsoon rain. At the other extreme, totals of less than 40 inches occurred throughout the south-east of the Island from Tissamaharama to Pottuvil, and in a more irregularly defined area, which can be roughly described as south and south-east of Mannar. The former included Udawila 28·3, and Tanamalwila 33·5; and the latter Murunkan 37·6, Nachchakali 37·1; while an isolated reading of 24·4 at Sangilikanadarawa may be considered with this group.

Temperature.—Temperatures were decidedly above average in March and April of 1926, and, largely as a result of this, the mean temperatures for the year were above average at all stations. A numerical offset of + 2·4° F. at Hakgala may be discounted somewhat, owing to the site of the new shed not being strictly comparable to that of the old one.

Trincomalee again had the highest mean temperature for the year with 83·6° F., or 0·7° above its own average; while at the other extreme, Nuwara Eliya with 59·3° F. was 1·2° above its average. At Colombo and Kandy the figures were 81·3° F. and 77·5° F.

The highest shade temperature in air recorded during the year was 100·3° F. at Anuradhapura on April 22, and the lowest, 30·8° F. at Nuwara Eliya on January 21; both of which are well within the absolute records of 103·7° F. at Trincomalee on May 12, 1890, and 27·1° F. at Nuwara Eliya in 1914. The extremes at Colombo in 1926, were 93·4° F. on February 15, and 66·0° F. on January 19.

The mean daily range, i.e., the difference between the mean of the maxima and mean of the minima, was highest at Nuwara Eliya (18·4°), and lowest at Galle (8·3°). The extreme values of the absolute range, i.e., the difference between the highest and lowest readings recorded at any one station, occurred at the same places, viz., 46·9° at Nuwara Eliya, and 20·4° F. at Galle.

At present air temperatures are taken at a height of from 4½ to 5 feet above ground level in open sheds which are about 10–12 feet square, and though not absolutely identical in dimensions are sufficiently similar for the results to be comparable. In each case the roof is supported by four corner pillars, usually of bricks, and the intermediate space is closed in with wire netting. In one or two cases a light blind has had to be added to prevent sunlight getting under the eaves in the early morning or late evening. Arrangements have been made for the replacement of these sheds by screens of an enlarged Stevenson type, but the only station where the change has been made already is Mannar.

TABLE VIII.—Percentage Humidity for 1926 calculated from the Dry and Wet Tables issued by the Indian Meteorological Department. Figures in ordinary type are from the 9·30 and 3·30 readings, and so derived from temperatures that are rigidly comparable to each other, but give no detail of night conditions. The figures in italics give the mean of the humidity as derived from the maximum temperatures and as derived from the minimum. This only admits of approximate physical interpretation, since the dry and wet thermometers do not necessarily reach their extreme values simultaneously. It is, however, a serviceable approximation for several purposes, as it does include an indication of the conditions at night.

TABLE X.—Offsets of the 9·30 and 15·30 Air Pressure Readings of the Year 1926 from the Average expressed in decimals of an inch of mercury.

Taking one millibar as roughly equal to 0·03 inch of mercury, it will be seen that offsets of as much as a millibar did not occur.

These figures are taken from Robinson anemometers and have been corrected for the index errors of the instruments except in the case of Little Basses. where the velocities are beyond the range covered by ordinary N. P. L. certificates. For that station the figures are face values comparable between themselves. The probable effect of applying an index correction to them would be reduction though they would still remain the highest values in the table.

This year's readings at Hambantota have been cancelled.

For the purpose of compiling this table an observation of WSW would be treated as half an observation at each of W and SW. Similarly with other intermediate points.

TABLE XIII.—Maximum amount of rain falling in any consecutive periods of 1, 2, 3, 4, &c., days during the year, for selected stations. This table has been altered slightly from the corresponding table of last year—Koslanda being replaced by its neighbour Meeriabedde (a station with a slightly heavier annual rainfall), and Anningkanda, on the South-west slopes of the Deniyaya range, being added.

The periods of consecutive days are now given between 10 and 20 by steps of 2, between 20 and 32 by steps of 3, between 32 and 40 by steps of 4, and above 40 by steps of 5.

The figure under each number represents the maximum amount of rain falling on that number of consecutive days during the year, the different figures for each station not necessarily referring to the same wet spell. For example, at Ratnapura, 8·35 fell on 2 days in October, while 10·48 fell on 3 days in May.

The series is terminated for each station when the intensity of the rain finally falls below 2 inches per day. In the case of wet spells occurring in December and January, they are considered as belonging to the year in which the greater part of the rain fell. St. Martin's supplies the only cases of that kind this year.

(The rainfall day is not the calendar day, but from the observation of one morning to that of the succeding morning).

* Depth over sill high water ordinary neap tide.
† Low water ordinary spring tide.
‡ Even vessels of a larger tonnage can be berthed.

II.—Harbour Facilities.

Colombo Harbour.

There are no enclosed wet docks. Vessels lie at moorings in the shelter of the breakwaters, and are loaded or discharged from lighters.

There are five berths available during the south-west monsoon and six during the north-east monsoon for vessels drawing up to 33 feet of water; the area being deepened to 36 feet below low water ordinary spring tide, for vessels of 33 feet draught, is being further extended.

There are three oil jetties and one pier available for shipping as follows:—

Discharge Jetty, 200 feet long, where vessels of 500 feet length and 27 feet draught can be berthed.

Outer Bunkering Jetty, where vessels of 550 feet length and 27 feet draught can be berthed.

Inner Bunkering Jetty, for bunkering barges only.
